Second Attempt Made To Slay "Legs" Diamond—Has Had Much Trouble

ALBANY, N. Y., April 27.—Jack "Legs" Diamond, New York gangster and racketeer, battled against death again today. He was shot in the back five times last night and his condition today was pronounced as serious. The racketeer was felled from ambush as he walked down the entrance of Saratoga Inn, 10 miles from Catskill. The five wounds in his back were believed to have been caused by buckshot, poured into him by assassins who hid in shrubbery at the front of the inn.

Loses Much Blood
As he was rushed 47 miles here to a hospital in an undertaker's ambulance, Diamond lost a large amount of blood. He was in a weakened condition when received at an Albany hospital, but physicians said this morning he had a chance to recover.

Dr. Thomas W. Holmes early today removed five bullets from Diamond's back. The bullets were shot-gun slugs.

The shooting occurred in the section where Diamond maintains a summer home at Aera, N. Y. Two bodyguards were said to have been with the gangster chief, but he escaped the gunfire.

Diamond had returned to Aera recently from New York, where he was shot five times in a hotel on September 2, 1930, shortly after his return from Germany. He has been forced to return to America from Europe because of his criminal reputation, foreign authorities ordering him to the United States.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Typical early April weather was observed over the week end. First it rained, then the sun shone, and then it snowed. A heavy wind accompanied the squalls on Sunday, breaking limbs from trees and causing some damage.

Local golfers who had been intrigued by the summer-like weather of last week, and who had planned to get out on the links over the week end were deeply disappointed to find it raining most of the time.

For the first time in several weeks, there were no New Castle motorists on the list of those whose driving privileges were suspended or revoked by the state bureau of motor vehicles.

Many properties were noted this morning where the flowers and plants had been covered over for the night, fearing the damage that would result from the freezing weather.

What happened to the peach blossoms as a result of the cold weather of last night is yet a question, according to experts. The peach blossoms (Continued On Page Two)

Secretary Stimson Trying To Decide Butler-Haiti Affair

By PIERCE MILLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Secretary of State Stimson today was trying to decide whether Haitian Minister Bellegarde impugned the honor of Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, marine corps, in connection with the latter's feat in capturing Fort Riviere, Haiti, in 1915, and whether he should be sent home.

Bellegarde was quoted by the Washington Herald as saying that neither he nor any one else he knew in Haiti had heard of the fort, for the capture of which Butler was awarded the congressional medal.

for the second time. Records of the marine corps show the fort did exist in 1915.
The only questions for Stimson to decide are whether Bellegarde was quoted correctly, and if so did his remarks constitute a breach of propriety serious enough to cause him to be sent home.
The statement attributed to Bellegarde was contained in an interview in the Washington Herald April 13 last which purported to show Butler was over rated as a soldier and allegedly had been implied he was awarded the nation's highest decoration for an exploit he (Continued On Page Two)

Marked Decrease In Unemployment Revealed Through State Survey

Further Increase For Steel Mill Activity Is Believed Due For May

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 27.—A slight decrease of unemployment and a definite increase of industrial activities in the Western Pennsylvania district feature the March survey of the U. S. Department of Labor made public today. The iron and steel districts reported improvement in employment conditions, large orders for cars being received by plants in Butler, Gravelle and McKees Rocks. The McKees Rocks plant, the survey said, will recall 600 men. Further expansion in structural steel shops and boatbuilding yards, already showing some improvement, is predicted. Steel mill schedules have increased operations and a further increase is expected for the current month.

Less unemployment exists in the Shenango Valley than in many months, according to the survey. Tin-plate mills in Warren operated at a fairly high rate, and 400 men (Continued On Page Two)

NEW YORK, April 27.—Been down near Lakewood, N. J., to spend the day with Mr. Arthur Brisbane at his beautiful new home.

Bill Donovan, the fellow we all thought was going to be attorney general, was there. Nice fellow.

With Mr. Brisbane and his wife and some of his children took a long horseback ride through the pine forests of his 10,000-acre estate. He raises fine horses. Never mind what he writes.

Says Russia is all working, and we can't compete with 'em by passing resolutions against 'em. Says Hoover will be elected by a bigger majority than before. Says fewer hours and less days per week is our only labor solution. Says Smith will be, or nominate, the next Democratic candidate.

Oh, and a lot more stuff he told me but I am going to most of it as my own. You don't suppose I went clear down there just for the horseback ride do you? I got horses at home, but I can't learn anything riding 'em.

Snowden Gives British Budget Scheme For Year

Financing Plan For 1931-32 Is Revealed By British Exchequer Head

PRICE OF GASOLINE IS GIVEN BOOST

Few Other Changes In Taxation Schedules Are Announced

By HARRY R. FLORY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 27.—Jacking up the price of gasoline another four cents per gallon, chancellor of the exchequer Philip Snowden today presented his budget for 1931-1932, relieving general fears that widespread taxation increases would be necessary to give Great Britain a favorable balance.

A windfall of $45,000,000 from the German mobilization loan, conversion of $100,000,000 of an exchange fluctuation deposit now lying in York and an added $50,000,000 to come from a new method of income tax payments will supply the country with the extra $200,000,000 needed this year, the chancellor's speech revealed.

Draws Income "Out Of Hat"
With the exception of the gasoline tax, making this commodity now susceptible to a total tariff of twelve cents a gallon, Snowden, the master economist, virtually drew this extra income "out of a hat," accomplishing what many critics had declared to be an absolute impossibility.

Snowden estimated the year's revenues at $3,905,010,000 and expenditures at $3,904,358,760, leaving the scant balance of $651,240, but at least it is a balance.

Flatly turning down all suggestions for a revenue tariff, Snowden said no attempt would be made to make up last year's deficit by immediate taxation. He admitted his budget proposals were temporary expedients to meet a temporary emergency.

"Unfortunately," he said, "the depredations of my predecessors left few henroosts to rob."

Main Budget Feature

Snowden announced a plan to tax land values at the rate of two cents in the pound sterling ($4.86), stating he considered this the main feature of his budget, although valuation of land values first will be necessary. (Continued On Page Two)

Maj. Gen. Butler's Speech Is Cut Off

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—Haiti and "hell" were the focal points today in the dual controversy which has brought Major General Smedley D. Butler into the spotlight again.

Not only was the existence of Fort Riviere, Haitian bandit stronghold, under question, but the general's right to use the word "hell" over the radio, describing the capture, also was being debated.

Secretary of State Stimson is endeavoring to settle the Haitian question.
The other incident in question arose here on Saturday night when General Butler was cut off the air by Howard Miller, announcer of station WELK, while the marine was addressing a gathering of the 312th field artillery association in the Elks hotel here. General But-

Police War On Dogs Is Started

Dog Owners Must Keep Canines Off Other People's Property

SEVERAL DOGS ALREADY KILLED

War on dogs allowed to run at large throughout the city is on.

The police officers of the city acting under instructions of Chief of Police C. C. Horner are engaged in eliminating all dogs that are found without licenses. Those which are licensed will be rounded up and the owner subjected to a fine.

Already a number of dogs have been killed in various sections of the city. According to Chief Horner the war on dogs will be continued until all strays have been killed off and the owners of others running at large have either had their dogs killed, or they have been fined.

People have the right to have their gardens and shrubbery protected, Chief Horner states, and the city is to be freed of dogs that are running at large. The work along this line will be continued until there is no further cause of complaint.

Chief Horner asks the co-operation of dog owners, who value their animals in the least, in keeping them tied up and preventing them from causing destruction to the property of other people.

Leesburg Church Has Anniversary

History Of Church Is Given
By Rev. W. A. Lloyd
And Day Is One Of Homecoming

Despite the inclemency of the weather Sunday the members of the Leesburg Presbyterian church came from far and near to observe the seventy fifth anniversary of the founding of the church. Many former members came from a great distance to take part in the celebration.

The Sabbath school session opened the day's activities with Louis Coleman, superintendent, in charge; then as the Sabbath school session left out the members and friends assembled in the church auditorium which was soon filled.

Rev. Charles Bell of Ellwood City brought the message of the morning and the congregation adjourned to the dining room, where a good fellowship basket dinner was held and the old acquaintanceship renewed.

The home-coming service of the day got under way at 2:30 and continued until 5 p. m. The history of the church, which had its small beginning 75 years ago, was read by the pastor, Rev. W. A. Lloyd and there were messages and greetings read from former pastors and members, who were unable to be present Sunday.

Many persons in the congregation made a few remarks on the auspicious occasion and Miss Hannah McCracken, a former missionary to the Mormons and mountaineers, gave an interesting story.

Concluding the afternoon meeting a fellowship supper was served by the ladies of the church. At the evening session Dr. S. A. Kirkbride, pastor at large of the Shenango and Beaver Presbyteries, and a former pastor of the church, gave a splendid insight into the work that had been accomplished in the past by this congregation, and he predicted much growth for the future.

Special music was given throughout the day by the church choir and David Reese, choir director of the Reformed Presbyterian of this city, gave three special numbers at the evening session.

Action Urged On Two Measures By Governor Pinchot

Two Bills Removing Red Tape
In Court Procedure Are Offered In House

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 27.—Governor Gifford Pinchot today expressed the hope that the legislature will act favorably upon two bills, now in the files of the house judiciary general committee, which are designed to remove needless red tape in court procedure. Both are administration prepared measures and were sponsored by Rep. T. B. Wilson, Bradford.

One of the measures would permit the supreme court to regulate by rule of court the procedure in civil cases in the same manner which it now controls equity cases. The other bill would give to the supreme court the power to supervise the work of all other courts except the superior court. It would enable the supreme court to keep in touch with the progress of court business in every county and keep the work of local courts up to date.

"I believe the passage of these acts will put Pennsylvania in the vanguard of the states which are seeking to improve the administration of justice and cut down the law's delay," the governor said.

The silk business had not been going so very well of late, and the Nagasaki Silk firm felt it necessary to jerk up its traveling salesmen to greater feats of salesmanship. At last one of them dropped into a certain town and succeeded in selling H. Hyams Frigg, the local drygoods dealer, several hundred bolts of silk at a state price per yard, to be delivered over a period of nine months, terms 2 per cent, 30 days. The first month the Nagasaki company sent its silk and Mr. Frigg sent a check, just as the contract required. But somehow the check did not arrive.

The Nagasaki company, noting that 30 days had expired, and that no check had come, wrote to Mr. Frigg asking why the check had not been received. Mr. Frigg immediately instructed his bookkeeper to make out another check, but somehow several days went by before the bookkeeper got around to it. On the day the new check was finally mailed Mr. Frigg wired for more silk. The Nagasaki company, however, now fearing to make any more shipments because the check for the first one had not been received, wired back that it would send no more silk unless the check accompanied each order.

This took Mr. Frigg entirely by surprise. More than that, it humiliated and offended him. He therefore sued for breach of contract.

assault and kidnapping. He was indicted by the grand jury in Greene county, N. Y., after Grover Parks related he had been beaten up by Diamond's men while delivering a load of cider. Parks charged that Diamond's gang roped him up and built a fire under his feet after severely beating him.

Authorities here said they had been unable to learn anything about the latest attack on Diamond. They said he refused to venture a statement as to the attackers and at the time no one was found who had seen the shooting.

Many Versions Given

Investigating officers were told various versions today of how the shooting occurred. One story told was that Diamond was dining at the inn with several companions and for some unexplained reason suddenly left the table and walked to the door of the establishment and then onto the porch entrance. A rattle of shots was heard and Diamond was found on the floor of the entrance hall. His assailant or assailants had vanished when his companions and other diners rushed to the gangster's side.

Another version of the shooting was that Diamond with his henchmen had started to walk down a long corridor and was shot down by a fire that came through the panes of a sun parlor.

Diamond's shooting also climaxed a charge by Frank H. Cook, president of the Catskill Chamber of Commerce, that the racketeer was extorting $1,000,000 annually from liquor sellers and farmers. He said that most of the huge sum came from farmers of Greene county, who had complained that Diamond's henchmen demanded tribute of 50 cents a barrel for cider they sold. The cider, Cook said, was bought by bootleggers, who distilled the liquid into applejack.

It was reported here that appeals had been made to Governor Roosevelt by the farmers to drive Diamond from the state and the governor was said to have been closely watching developments in Greene county. Roosevelt was understood to have been responsible for sending state troopers to the Acra section.

did not perform. Butler immediately complained to the State department.

Already Bellegarde has put in a sort of defense through the press, to the effect that what he said was misconstrued in effect that he had merely said he had never heard of the fact.

It is probable that Stimson will ask the minister just what he told the Herald reporter, and that whatever he replies will be accepted as a matter of course. In other instances where foreign diplomats have been called on by the State department for an explanation of their remarks it has usually followed that they have replied that they were misquoted.

To send Bellegarde home for affronting a marine officer, whom the Haitians charge with killing fifty or sixty of their people at Fort Reveire would not strengthen Haiti's friendship with the United States.

It was freely predicted by officials who do not pretend to know what Stimson will do, that Bellegarde's statement—if he is asked to make one—on the incident will be accepted at satisfactory and the case will be recorded as another "Affaire Butler".

WHY MOON DOES NOT RISE
AT SAME HORIZON ANGLE

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

The observatory has noticed that the moon changes its position through quite a distance of latitude north and south, never rising any two successive times in exactly the same place on the horizon. This is due to the fact that just as the plane of the ecliptic is oblique to the equator, 23 1/2 degrees, so the moon's path around the earth is oblique. Just as the sun appears to travel north and then south in a year's time, so the moon covers practically the same migration in a month's time. As the moon follows this oblique path around the earth every month, its change of position north and south is very apparent.

CAMP PROWLER NOW BELIEVED KNOWN TO ASSOCIATION HEADS

As long as the mysterious prowler at the Fred L. Rentz Y. M. C. A. camp on the Slippery Rock creek was content to play the role of a gum shoe visitor, make uninvited visits to the camp lodge and leave an unlocked door the only clue to his coming, camp authorities jokingly forgot the matter.

So when the last week-end arrived and R. L. Meenard, general secretary, learned that the camp had been entered for a fourth time this pre-camping season, he was prepared to forget.

A search revealed that the prowler had forced a window and had made off with two oil lanterns valued at $7 each. An investigation was promptly started.

Neighbors in the district, Meenard says, have been interviewed, with the result that a youth in the camp location has been pointed out to be the one who came to the "Y" lodge often.

Whether or not the association will press charges against the person is not yet known.

Bobbed Bandit Meets Mate

Gone is the daring which characterized Celia Cooney, the original bobbed-haired bandit of Brooklyn, N. Y. Clad in a cheap dress and the regulation prison shoes, this scene was enacted at Syracuse Court, N. Y., where Celia came to testify in her husband's $100,000 suit against the State for loss of an arm in Auburn Prison. Eddie, her husband and partner in a series of holdups which brought their conviction in 1924, is also paying the price demanded by society, as he is now an old man with face as gray as the prison uniform he wears. This was their first meeting since their conviction seven years ago.

Former Wealthy Candy Salesman Drives Machine Into Delaware River

HITCH-HIKER IS PINNED IN AUTO

(International News Service)
CHESTER, Pa., April 27.—A former wealthy salesman and a hitch-hiker who had been given a "lift" were killed and a second hitch-hiker narrowly escaped death when the salesman, apparently without reason drove his machine into the Delaware River here today.

The salesman's body was recovered and identified as Wilbur E. Andrews, 75 Beaumont avenue, Newtown, Mass., candy salesman and district manager covering Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland for the Colbee Candy Company of New York.

One Escapes Death
The hitch-hiker who was drowned was Charles Dunder, 100 Bowery, New York. Dunder was on his way home from Washington after a futile attempt to collect his bonus.

Another hitch-hiker, J. I. Kimball, 17 Wright street, Cambridge, Mass., leaped from the machine and escaped with a broken leg.

Kimball said Andrews acted strangely during the ride from Wilmington, where Andrews picked Kimball up and drove north at a breakneck speed, telling Kimball and Dunder he had an appointment in Philadelphia. Coming into Chester, he stopped the car and demanded that Kimball ride in the front seat with him. Kimball did.

Andrews then sped onto the Market street pier where a watchman told him there were no ferries from that point. Suddenly Andrews shifted gears, stepped on the accelerator and the machine hurtled through an iron guard gate. Kimball leaped as the car hit the water.

Andrew's body later floated to the surface but Dunder was pinned in the machine at the bottom of the river. The machine will have to be raised to recover the body.

St. Mary's Church And School Adopt Daylight Saving

Change Time Today To Conform With Action Of Industries Of City

Announcement was made at the services Sunday morning by Rev. Father P. J. McKenna, pastor of St. Mary's church, that the church and school would operate on Daylight Saving Time in the future in conformity with the action of the local industries.

Because of the fact that most of the members of the congregation are employed in the industries and a majority of the families would be governed by Daylight Saving Time in their work, it was deemed advisable to have the church and church operate on the same time.

The schools started on Daylight Saving Time this morning. Father Dudley Nee stated this morning and will continue to do so, until the industries change back next fall.

FIVE CONTRACTS FOR PAVING JOBS LET BY COUNCIL

and the fact that the McCrady company asked to have its bid withdrawn, plus the opposition of the majority of Ray street property owners, the recommendations were sent to committee.

Burns Cites Opinion.
When the vote came to give the same company the award for paving Fairmont avenue, Councilman Burns produced an account of the decision of the supreme court in the case of Wilson vs the City of New Castle.

Burns said he could not see how his colleagues could award the contract to the company in view of the testimony which alleged inferior material and slow work.

He said that wrong curb had been put in after which Councilman Gensinger remarked: "I'm voting for him because all of this was concocted."

"Why did we get money back from the curb?" asked Burns. He charged $15 instead of 18-inch curb had been put in.

Councilman Treser alleged that another firm here had tried to put wrong size curb in Butler avenue.

Harold Heck, material representative, addressed council and termed Burns' statement "ridiculous."

He said the city had its own inspectors and there was no defective material and Burns changed his statement to "workmanship."

To Use Local Labor.

Olsen was asked by Councilman Reeves about using local labor if he was given the contract.

He promised to use local labor.

The vote on the material, concrete, for Fairmont avenue, was unanimous but the award of contract met with a negative vote from Burns.

The other jobs were taken up and on each roll call to award the bids Mr. Burns cast a negative ballot. The other four members voted aye.

The city engineer recommended brick for Pearson street but council had him change the recommendation and voted for concrete.

After Fairmont, Laurel, Pearson and Lyndal street jobs had been let County Line street repaving with brick was considered.

It developed that McCrady Construction company had presented the low bid of $7,593.50. Olsen submitted a bid of $7,869.50.

Olsen conferred with council as the McCrady company had requested permission to withdraw its bid.

Olsen agreed to do the work at the same bid as presented by McCrady and he got the job.

Mrs. Rabinovitz Is Removed As An Executrix

Claimed That She Has Not Handled Estate Of Mark L.
Rabinovitz Properly

Petition for the immediate dismissal of Mrs. Celia Rabinovitz, executrix in the estate of the late Mark L. Rabinovitz, was presented to court this morning by J. Morris, a creditor of the estate. It was set forth in the petition that Mrs. Rabinovitz left for Atlantic City, N. J., shortly after the death of her husband, and that she has since continued to reside outside the state. Further that she had been serving as executrix without bond.

She filed a partial account showing $3,516.40 for distribution, and Attorney Wilbur J. Baer was appointed auditor to make distribution. He filed his account showing $3,220.40 for distribution, of which amount $794.37 was awarded by the auditor to the petitioner, J. Morris. The balance was awarded to other creditors.

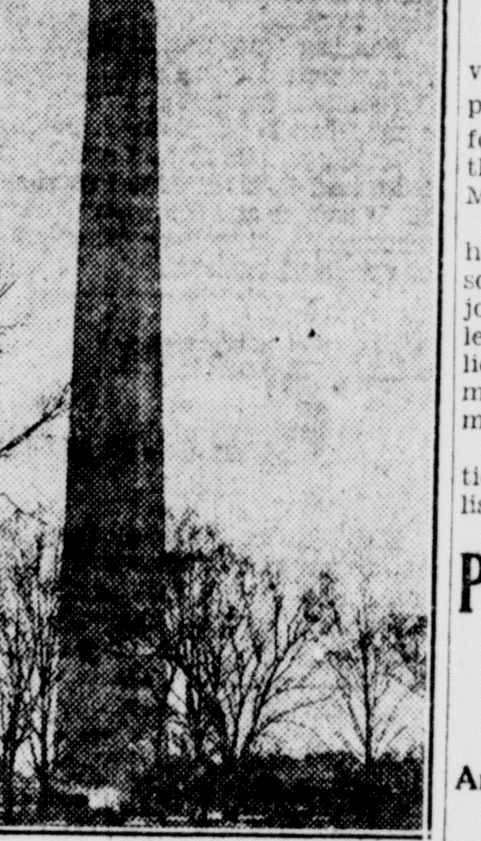

It is charged that Mrs. Rabinovitz has neglected and failed to pay over the principal of the estate for distribution in her hands, and in particular the $794.37 due the petitioner, whose entire claim is for $6,028.50. It is claimed that Mrs. Rabinovitz is threatening to transfer her account from the Lawrence Savings & Trust company to a bank outside this city.

It is set forth in the petition that an emergency exists and the summary removal of Mrs. Rabinovitz is asked. Judge Hildebrand made an order removing Mrs. Rabinovitz and appointing the Citizens National bank to act as executor in her place. Mrs. Rabinovitz is directed to turn over all money, accounts and books in her possession to the Citizens National bank.

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 27.—Provided the "necessary legislation" is passed by that time Governor Gifford Pinchot is perfectly willing that the legislature should adjourn on May 21.

Public utility regulation legislation, the governor said, heads the list under the "necessary" category.

Suit To Collect Balance Alleged Due On Mortgage

Joseph Conti And Wife Say Wm. J. Quinn Money Was Paid To Clyde Gibson

QUINN CLAIMS HE NEVER GOT MONEY

When court convened this morning the case of William J. Quinn against Joseph and Louisa Conti, in which Quinn is trying to collect a balance of $1,500 due on a mortgage, was taken up for trial before Judge James A. Chambers. Defendants claim that they paid the mortgage in full to Attorney Clyde Gibson, who is now serving a term in the workhouse for irregularities in connection with a somewhat similar case.

The point involved in the case is whether or not Gibson was acting as agent for Quinn at the time the money, originally $2,000, was loaned to the defendants. Evidence was introduced this morning showing that Gibson had done considerable business for Quinn in the loaning of money.

In January, 1921, it is claimed that Quinn had spoken to Gibson about having some money to loan. About the same time the Contis applied to Gibson for a loan of $2,000. Gibson is alleged to have called Quinn regarding the loan and Quinn sent him a check for the amount.

After the loan had been made and the bond and mortgage taken Gibson continued to collect the interest and also a payment of $500 which was turned over to Quinn. Later it developed that the whole amount of the mortgage with interest had been paid to Gibson, but had not been turned over to Quinn. Defendants have Gibson's receipts showing that the loan had been paid in full. It is said that after the debt was canceled the bond and mortgage was returned by Gibson to the Contis.

Depositions, taken by attorneys from Gibson at the workhouse, showing his transaction with Quinn, were read to the jury. The question involved is whether or not the Contis will have to pay the $1,500 a second time, and it will hinge largely on the matter of the agency of Gibson as shown by the evidence.

Chemist's Part In Industry Related

Prof. Craig Hoyt, Grove City College Man Speaks At Rotary Today

Chemistry's contribution to modern industry, its part in the further development of established products within the past few years and the part it may be expected to play in future years, was interestingly portrayed by Prof. Craig Hoyt, Grove City college chemistry professor, when he spoke to the Rotary club in The Castleton today.

"Chemistry and Modern Industry" was the theme upon which Prof. Hoyt spoke, and he dwelt consistently on the given theme. It was enlightening to hear what an outstanding part the chemist's research laboratory has taken in the development of the material products used day after day.

"The American public has come to expect great things," the speaker said in beginning. "The public is more and more depending on the research and experiments of the chemist for new developments. We have become accustomed to having our wishes met and everything must have all the characteristics that we desire."

Prof. Hoyt told the club exactly what research means, and emphasized the fact that a chemist is only an ordinary man and not a miracle maker as the public has come to think. He termed the chemist as a careful student of certain characteristics in our material world.

Guests of the Rotary club today included Lieutenant E. G. Henry, Pennsylvania state highway department; Franklin, Dr. H. M. Hart and W. W. Campbell, New Wilmington, and Loren Kamenberg, son of Rotarian B. H. Kamenberg of the local club.

Pennsy M. B. A. Members Banquet

Nearly 100 In Attendance At Banquet On Saturday Night

R. L. MADDEN IS EVENT CHAIRMAN

Eight years of Mutual Beneficial association activity in local Pennsylvania railroad circles came to an auspicious ending here on Saturday night when more than 90 members of New Castle Local No. 55, from the local, district and out-of-town points, convened in the Fountain Inn dining room for their annual banquet.

The Mutual Beneficial organization is composed wholly of Pennsylvania railroad men and operates principally for a mutual insurance reason. New Castle has fostered an active branch since 1923.

Following out a tradition first established when the charter members met to organize eight years ago, the banquet of Saturday evening in every way exemplified the M. B. A. spirit of cooperation. General chairman R. L. Madden and his committees had made sure beforehand that it would be a success.

P. R. R. Orchestra Plays

Guests were seated promptly at 6:45 o'clock and for an hour they dined to the harmonious musical strains of Teufel's Pennsylvanians, local Pennsy orchestra H. L. Culbertson directed.

After dinner, Chairman Madden assumed immediate charge and summoned Richard E. Johns to pep up things with a period of singing. They sang for a while and then Miss Gertrude Weschler, sister of R. M. Weschler, president of the local, entertained the group with two piano solos. Her numbers were immensely enjoyed.

It was noted that the eight years of the New Castle local were briefly but interestingly reviewed, Chairman Madden recalling the organization's growth. He noted especially the spirit of cooperation and mutual interest that has flourished.

"E. & A. Fenton," to use Mr. Madden's terms, was then presented as toastmaster for the evening, and Mr. Fenton responded in his widely-famed humorous way. Mr. Fenton kept things spiced with his choice bits of humor and for every guest introduced had a story to tell. Those presented, some of whom spoke and some of whom didn't, were:

Guests Introduced

J. L. Day, system treasurer of the M. B. A. from Philadelphia, and C. W. Holmes, M. B. A. officer for the central region, from Pittsburgh, both honor guests for the evening; Raymond Stanley, member of the system board of directors for the M. B. A. from Conway, another guest; Hon. Bart E. Richards, local state legislator; Division Superintendent H. T. Brushour, and Division Engineer J. S. Gillum.

The members listened attentively to the remarks of the guests especially Mr. Day, Mr. Holmes and Mr. Stanley, who brought M. B. A. greetings from the system office and board of directors and regional headquarters. They spoke of the nation-wide development of the organization.

At an appropriate time, Jack Robinson and Corley Soper entertained the audience with a number of string duet selections. Mr. Johns followed them with two highly-enjoyed vocal contributions, "Travelin' On the Pennsylvania Lines" and "I Wonder How I Look When I'm Asleep".

Pearson Speaks

The principal address of the evening, an interesting one on "Egyptian Travels," delivered by S. DeGraff Pearson, local businessman, followed the special musical numbers. Toastmaster Fenton presented him to the audience of railroaders.

For a considerable time Mr. Pearson kept the attention of the members with his thrilling tales of travel abroad, especially with the stories of the valley of the kings, where the ancient rulers of Egypt long ago were buried. He told of the excavation work of recent times.

After Mr. Pearson's educational discourse, Toastmaster Fenton again took charge.

He reminded the members that Vice President M. W. Clement at Philadelphia, a charter member of the New Castle local, had sent a letter expressing regret at being unable to join the division men in the reunion. Mr. Clement became a member when he was general manager of the central region at Pittsburgh.

Past Master Mechanics J. S. Richards and H. S. Noble, now located at other sections of the line, who had been expecting to come, also found it impossible to attend at the last moment.

Heading the committee on arrangements for the evening were R. L. Madden, general chairman of the committee; L. W. Tate, J. P. Carlin, John Unger, G. F. McConnell, C. L. Rose and C. B. Emery. President R. M. Weschler and Secretary Harry L. Thompson, as well as other officers of the local, assisted.

Jurors Excused From Court Term

Five jurors were excused when court convened this morning. They were Roy J. Eagan, sixth ward; Katherine Fisher, Slippery Rock; Clark G. Snyder, second ward, R04; H. Whaley, third ward and James M. Yates, seventh ward.

Escaped Convict Taken In Custody

New Jersey Policeman Captures Noted Escaped Prisoner Single Handed

ESCAPED PRISON THREE YEARS AGO

(International News Service)—MORRISTOWN, N. J., April 27.—James Nannery, who escaped from Sing Sing prison with Edward "Snakes" Ryan in 1928 and since had been sought for many crimes, was held in jail here today and effort will be made to extradite him to New York.

He was captured singlehanded by Charles Ripley, a policeman, despite the fact Nannery carried two guns and a gas pistol.

With Nannery when Ripley recognized him in a car parked on a highway near Dover was a young woman who escaped but later was recaptured. She gave the name of Patricia Smith Burke and at first it was believed she was the wife of the notorious Fred "Killer" Burke. Later she said the Burke was fictitious and authorities said today they did not think she had even ever known the midwest killer.

Ripley pressed a pistol against the side of Nannery, who has been called America's boldest criminal. In Nannery's car was found a small arsenal, including a machine gun, 100 machine gun bullets and three revolvers.

Nannery was a member of the Cunliffe-Rodgers gang of New York, police said. When he escaped from Sing Sing he was serving a sentence of 12 and one-half to 25 years for participation in the holdup of an ice cream factory in 1925 in which an employe was slain.

New Orders Affect Rural Mail Boxes

Must Be Placed In Proper Position For Carriers On Route

(Special To The News)—WASHINGTON, D. C., April 27.—Patrons of rural mail routes in Pennsylvania who refuse to place their mailboxes in positions requested by postmasters will be chalked up on a "blacklist" to be made here by the Post Office Department.

First Assistant Postmaster General Arch Coleman has just sent out to the postmaster of New Castle and all other postmasters of the State an order requesting them to make a personal study of the location of rural mailboxes and to have the locations changed when such change will better comply with traffic regulations. Patrons refusing to move their boxes should be named to the Post Office Department, Mr. Coleman directed.

"Because of the development and improvement of highways and because the rural carriers have no special privileges in traffic, it is the desire of the Department that postmasters give greater attention to the location of rural boxes along hard surfaced roads," Mr. Coleman explained. "It is a requirement that on all new rural routes boxes shall be located on the right hand side of the road in the direction of travel of the carrier. The boxes must be placed to conform to the laws of the State or regulations of the officials having supervision of the highways and where they will be accessible to the carriers without the need of leaving their conveyances."

Streams High From Heavy Rain

Local streams were swelled considerably by the heavy rains over the week-end.

The Shenango is considerably swollen this morning, while the Shenango river rose three feet since Sunday morning, due to the heavy rainfall in the Shenango valley.

The Shenango is near the high mark for the present year at nine feet four inches and will probably surpass the mark set during March of nine feet 10 inches, as it generally keeps on rising for several days after a heavy rain in the district.

Salvation Army Renders Service Of Importance

Shown That It Benefits Local People In Many Ways And Places

That the Salvation Army Corps, the headquarters of which is in this city, benefits people of this city and Lawrence county, in many ways, that are only made possible through its national affiliation, was known in the statements made by Ensign V. Thomsen, officer in charge, in an interview Friday with T. W. Bruce, secretary of the Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce. Ensign Thomsen was given the opportunity of showing the splendid national and statewide co-operative work of the Salvation Army and revealed how the national and state assessments are used. As a result the Salvation Army will again be considered a participant in the Ellwood City Community Chest, the same as last year.

Ensign Thomsen showed how seven girls had been sent to the Maternity Home and Hospital in Bellevue, which is operated for the benefit of the Western Pennsylvania section and how the national and state assessments go to support this work, as the fee for medical service at the time of the girls need is not enough to care for the support of the patient who remains in the home from three to six months.

A part of the assessment goes to the College in New York City, which trains the Salvation Army worker. Within the past two years, a young person from New Castle was trained there and is now located in Brooklyn in the Salvation Army Day Nursery. Another candidate will enter this fall. The students are given free tuition and the only support for the college is through public subscriptions shown in the budget of the corps.

Many of the older officers are being pensioned. While each officer contributes 2 1/2 percent to this fund out of their own allowance, a provision has been made in the budget to help this pension fund from the public subscriptions.

To prison and parole system of the Salvation Army, which Ensign Thomsen had occasion to make use of recently, must also be supported from public funds. In two cases, Ensign Thomsen was asked to get in touch with the parents and the local contact was established and the boys paroled and sent to their homes in this district.

The 1930-1931 budget called for $7,448. The income from sources other than the New Castle Community Chest was placed at $1,448. This left $6,000 to be raised by public subscriptions or by the Community Chest method. The New Castle Community Chest was able this year to contribute but $4,000 and Ensign Thomsen has been compelled to curtail much of the relief work, but rendered support to the Mayor's Relief Committee and the James Memorial Hospital, which institution made soup for distribution.

The budget showed the following: Evangelistic department, which includes officers allowance, rent, light, heat, general supervision, minor repairs and alterations, audits, printing, postage, furniture and fixtures and sundry other expenses, costing $4,388. Relief department which includes groceries, clothing, medical supplies, printing, postage, telephone, car fare and railroad travel, auto upkeep, care of prisoners families and parole supervision costing $2,680 and National and State obligations which include Administration of National and State Headquarters, Field Officers pension fund, Eastern Territory Training College, Young People's Summer School, Divisional extension and Emergency relief, Home and National for women, Emergency Home for Transient women and special efforts department, which costs $400.

House Committees Report Is Ready To Be Handed In

House Report On Utility Probe Expected To Be Given Legislature Today

TO RECOMMEND CORRECTIONS

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, April 27.—Preliminary report of the house utility investigating committee, which will be submitted tonight, will call attention to practices and methods of some concerns which call for correction, D. Glenn Moore, the chairman, said here today.

Definite recommendations to correct such practices through legislative enactment will be made to the legislature, according to Moore.

Discussions of the work of the committee, which to date has held 32 hearings and compiled over 4,000 pages of testimony, Moore said:

"Evidence of popular dissatisfaction with the Public Service Commission as constituted and functioning has been presented by many municipalities and individuals. Many more than could be heard filed complaints, some of which have become a part of the record.

Rates Too High
The greater part of the evidence before the committee on rate matters was secured from the reports of the utility companies filed with the Public Service Commission. For some reason the commission has apparently paid scant attention to these reports, which are required to be filed regularly. The evidence also shows that not only the consumer but the investor in utility securities has been neglected by the commission. While the commission has no power to forbid security issues it has the power to certify them to the attorney general and give

A CLEAR COMPLEXION
Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellowish, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, a lot of sorts, inactive bowels, take one of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets right for a time and note the pleasant results. publicity to them. The record shows that in only two instances has this power been exercised.
Evidence presented to the committee, the chairman said, has "cut the ground from under" the alleged claim of utilities that their rates are high because production costs are high and their margin of profit low.
"The investigation so far has revealed serious ineffectiveness of existing utility regulation," declared Moore, "and has laid bare some practices which call for correction. The report will direct attention to some of these failures and will make recommendations based on the evidence adduced."

Many Delegates Plan Attendance At Camp Training

Girl Scout Director Receiving Scores Of Registrations For Week-End Training

Registrations from Girl Scout leaders and councilors from cities over Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, Delaware and District of Columbia, are flowing into the New Castle Girl Scout headquarters daily, indicating their intentions of attending the annual regional training period, which will precede the annual Scout convention in this city, in May.

Already 50 registrations have been received by Miss Nance Pugh, local director, and by May 5, the closing date for registrations, it is believed that over 100 will have been received.

Delegates for training will arrive at the Dick Victor camp, between New Castle and Ellwood City, on Friday morning and afternoon, May 8. The training will commence at 8. The training will continue through Saturday, April 9 and Sunday, April 10. Five courses will be presented, with women who are well known in the Girl Scout world, in charge.

A number of leaders and council members who will be here for the week-end training period, will remain over three days for the regional conference, which will take place Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 11, 12 and 13.

However, for the most part, it will be an entirely different gathering at the convention.

End of a Traveling Breakfast TEN YEARS THIS MAN SUFFERED

Eating the first Transcontinental breakfast in history, Pilot Harlin Hull is pictured above, and is getting service? The meal was prepared in New York and Hull carried it with him on the first westbound plane opening the new Transcontinental Western Airmail Line between the eastern metropolis and Los Angeles. Twenty-four later the breakfast was served to the pilot in the western city by the Misses Dorothy Christy and Gladys Ford.

Held in Triangle Shooting

Following the shooting of John T. Conlon, of Astoria, N. Y., in the hallway of his home his wife, Mrs. Amy Conlon, 40, and James De Pew, 22, her alleged lover, (both above) are under arrest. Police declare that De Pew has admitted that he held up Conlon to obtain money so that Mrs. Conlon could pay for a Reno divorce, but he insists that the shooting was accidental. De Pew is an ex-convict and since his arrest has nonchalantly boasted of his amours with various women. Conlon's condition is reported as critical.

Pre-School Age Children Are Being Examined

Examination of children of the pre-school age in the Mahoning school district of the seventh ward took place this morning in the Mahoning school under the supervision of the Health Committee of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs and with the assistance of three local physicians, welfare nurses of the community, women of the federated clubs and other interested women.

Forty-five children of the pre-school age were presented for examination and this may be taken as an indication of the interest in this work, which will be continued throughout the present week.

In this group of children was found the smallest percentage of defects to be corrected before the child enters school of any group.

Had Not Been Free From Severe Headache For Two Years

CATARH HAD AFFECTED HIS HEAD, NOSE AND THROAT

The good results being obtained from World's Tonic, the new systemic treatment to help fight catarh is shown in the case of John A. Boham, 609 New Castle, St. Butler, Pa., who told the World's Tonic druggists this story:
"I suffered from catarh since I was fourteen years of age, and I felt like shouting when, after the use of four bottles of World's Tonic I realized that at last I had found a medicine that was really doing me some good. I am now a great booster of World's Tonic, and I have told many of my friends what great relief World's Tonic brought me in such a short time. My throat was dry and my nose was stopped up and very raw. The slightest change in the weather would cause me to contract cold. I hadn't been free from headache for more than two years. My head felt stopped up just like I had a severe cold all the time. This heavy dull feeling in the front part of my head for so long certainly did make me try many different kinds of medicine, but I can truthfully state that World's Tonic has given me more relief than anything I have found. Since using the third bottle I have had no headache, the head noises have gone, my nose and throat are getting better every day and I feel the improvement in my general health has been excellent."
Most of the so-called stomach troubles are due almost entirely to catarrhal inflammation. The constant coughing up of mucus, dull throbbing headaches, frequent sneezing, watery eyes, pains in the stomach and over the kidneys, loss of appetite, no ambition, depletion of spirit and a persistent contracting of it are characteristic symptoms of this trouble, from which many in cities like this suffer.
World's Tonic, the new systemic treatment to help fight catarh, is very effective with this disease. It almost immediately gives relief from the dropping of mucus and sweetens the offensive breath caused by catarh.
World's Tonic is sold by Eckerd's, McKee's, Paisley, Smith's and all other good druggists. (A-153)

Commission On Realty Deal Is Basis Of Suit

E. J. O'Brien Asks $600 From George G. Double For Sale Of Farm

Complications arising out of the sale of a farm in Scott township by George G. Double to Lulu B. Weigle, wife of C. L. Weigle, are the basis of a suit taken up before Judge R. L. Hildebrand this morning in which E. J. O'Brien is plaintiff and George G. Double defendant.

The farm, which is located near the airport on the Harlansburg road, was sold for $12,000. O'Brien, a real estate agent, is claiming a commission of five per cent, or $600.

At the opening of the case this morning a written contract was produced by O'Brien showing that Double had given him the farm for sale, and setting forth the amount of the commission which was to be paid in the event of sale.

After the contract had been signed O'Brien took C. L. Weigle out to see the farm, and he expressed himself as pretty well pleased with it but did not close the contract. Later O'Brien learned that Double had deeded the farm to Lulu B. Weigle, wife of C. L. Weigle, to whom O'Brien had shown the farm.

The defense claims that the deal was closed by another agent, J. H. Hendrix, and that he was paid the commission on the transaction. Hendrix claims that he had been negotiating with Weigle for the sale of a farm for several months, and had shown him a number of farms but had never actually shown the Double farm, although he says that he had it on his list and had mentioned it to Weigle.

After O'Brien had shown Weigle the farm Weigle later went to the office of Hendrix where the matter of the purchase of the Double farm was taken up and finally closed, the property being deeded to Mrs. Weigle, and Double afterwards paying the commission to Hendrix.

O'Brien claims that he is a regularly licensed real estate dealer, had a written contract for the sale of the farm, and that as he had shown it to Weigle, to whose wife it was afterward deeded, he is entitled to the commission.

The case is a somewhat unusual one and the outcome will be watched with interest.

Gar Wood Abandons Efforts At Record

American Speedboat Racer Will Quit For Time Being Record Attempts (International News Service) MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 27.—Gar Wood, American speedboat ace, today abandoned, for the time being, his attempts to set a new world's speed record on Indian Creek here.
After making five runs and attaining a speed of 102.238 miles an hour, Wood called it a day and announced that he would leave for Long Key, Fla., tomorrow on a three-day fishing jaunt.
"I believe we have about reached the limit with this power," Wood said. "We shall have to get more power to get more speed."
Asked if he would make another assault on the record, now held by Kaye Don, British racer, Wood replied:
"I shan't know that until after an examination of the engines. If they are worth another trial I may make another run in four or five days."

Men Nurse Rabbits After Mother Is Killed By Cat

Life with its perplexing problems of existence became a stark reality during the past week to four shivering wild rabbits, all that remained of a litter of six left at a rosebush on East Street.
The mother had been killed by a roving tom cat, and it is believed that two of the original litter of six had also been exterminated by the feline.
With their mother gone while their eyes were still closed the bunnies crawled about in their nest in the rosebush on the George S. Long property, 130 East street. Slowly they began to weaken as the rot sun of early morning beat down on their thin silken fur. Taken as an example their chance for life was dim. They were wild rabbits in a city and without means to subsist.
Came a day when the litter was discovered almost hidden in the rosebush. They were taken into the Long home while still blind and unaware of the appearance of their benefactors.
Deputy Game Warden Tom O'Brien, who is also a constable, and a brother of Mrs. Long, hit on a plan to feed the quartet. He filled an eye dropper with milk and fed them.
Game Protector Coen took the rabbits to his home Saturday and continued feeding them with the eye dropper. The plan of the game warden is to release them to the wilds of the brushland when they are grown able to care for themselves. At present he reports that they are getting along as well as can be expected.

Boys Make Trip
To See Dirigible

Twenty-five boys of Mahoningtown saw enough interesting things Sunday to furnish conversation material for many days to come. They made a trip to Akron, Ohio, for the purpose of seeing "The Akron," world's largest dirigible, under construction by the government of the United States.

The boys were astonished at the enormous size of the dirigible and the hanger and they spent quite a while looking it over. Incidentally they made a motor sight seeing trip through Akron and surrounding territory and saw many things of great interest. Quite a number of the boys took airplane trips and needless to say, they were thrilled. They had lunch in Akron and returned to Mahoningtown by special train last night.

The trip was sponsored by T. N. Hockman and Harold Vahue.

Ohio Edison Officials At Youngstown Summoned
By Mahoning Judges

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 27.—John T. Harrington, director of the Ohio Edison company, and A. C. Blinn, vice president and general manager of the company, today were under subpoena to appear on Wednesday as witnesses for the Mahoning county common pleas bench in its probe of the office of Ray Thomas, the county prosecutor.

Thomas, involved in a $100,000 slander suit, the outgrowth of spectacular charges he lodged against Attorney A. M. Anderson and two members of the judiciary as the result of attempts to remove him as prosecutor in the public utilities probe, has refused to divulge any information concerning his financial holdings. Depositions were taken Saturday in the slander suit. Thomas maintained absolute secrecy on questions concerning his finances and securities.

Engle to Appear.

Harry Engle, former traction commissioner, central figure in the original utilities probe, has announced his willingness to appear for questioning Wednesday as a voluntary witness. Harrington, one of Youngstown's wealthiest men, was subpoenaed by Attorney David P. Kennedy, acting for the judges. Blinn precipitated the probe last February 13 when in a letter to the Youngstown city council he charged that Engle was attempting to collect $150,000 from the Ohio-Edison company "for services performed."

The attempt of the five common pleas judges to probe the utility situation was halted by Thomas who carried his battle to the supreme court which overruled the jurists in their attempt to oust the prosecutor in the investigation.

Judges Alfred Mack of Cincinnati and A. J. Pearson of Cleveland have been assigned by Chief Justice Carrington T. Marshall of the Ohio supreme court to hear the present charges and counter-charges.

Every CAMEL Package Now a Tiny Humidor

Switch over for just one day then quit Camels, if you can

All regular Camel smokers have noticed a significant change in the Camel package. Now their favorite cigarettes come air-sealed in moisture-proof Cellophane.

An improvement in appearance, true, but the reason for this change that cost $2,000,000 was not mere looks.

It was done to protect the fine mild quality of Camels until they reach the smoker.

The best tobacco loses much of its rich flavor and aroma when its natural moisture content is lost through scorching or evaporation.

That's why we have made every Camel package a tiny humidor—so that you may always be sure of getting Camels in fresh mild condition.

Camels are wrapped only in moisture-proof Cellophane with an air-seal.

Try a package today and revel in the luxury of a really fresh cigarette.

Factory-fresh Camels are air-sealed in the new Sanitary Package which keeps the dust and germs out and keeps the flavor in.

It is peppery dust and harsh dry tobacco that are unkind to a smoker's throat.

We vacuum-clean away the dust and keep the natural moisture in by the exclusive Humidor Pack.

Make the switch to Camels for just one day, then leave them—if you can.

Kittanning Man Will Be Speaker

Rev. A. E. Driggers To Take Part In County Convention Here June 11

Word has been received from Rev. A. E. Driggers, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Kittanning, accepting the invitation to be one of the speakers at the 93rd Convention of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association which is to be held at the Cathedral, Thursday, June 11th. Those who attended the State Convention in Scranton last October will remember that Rev. Driggers substituted for Clarence True Wilson who was scheduled to speak but was called away on account of the death of a relative. This was a very difficult position for Rev. Driggers as the audience of over 2,500 were expecting to hear Dr. Wilson, but he stepped in the breach in fine shape and his dynamic southern personality soon had the audience with him. His address was inspirational, entertaining and instructive and the delegates were loud in their praise.

The State representative at the convention will be Walter E. Myers, General Secretary, and Lillian E. Reed, Children's Superintendent.

The afternoon session will be a rally of the women's adult classes of the county and the evening session will be a rally of the men's adult classes. Awards will be made both in the afternoon and the evening, to the classes having the best attendance.

Church Commission Urges Birth Control

Special Commission Urges Presbyterian Church To Approve Birth Control

Delegates To General Assembly May 28 To June 3 Will Take Up Subject

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—Birth control will be approved by the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A. if the delegates at the general assembly of the denomination meeting in Pittsburgh May 28 to June 3, accept favorably the report of its special commission on marriage, divorce, and remarriage made public here today.

Frank approval of birth control is given in the report which was signed by all members of the commission, namely: nine ministers and six elders. "Birth control demands attention today as never before," wrote the committee.

Standard of Living. "Economic conditions and a worthy standard of living clearly make it wrong to bring children into the world without adequate provision for their nurture and proper consideration for their mother." The report also contains liberal recommendation on marital relations and sanctions use of contraceptives and continuance as methods of birth control.

The commission recommends that its assembly appoint a committee of not less than 15 to study the report and approve it "as expressing the attitude of our church on this important and all-important subject."

In a section of the report devoted to Christian marriage, it says: "Children have a God-given right to be well born. Therefore both parties to the marriage pact both parties should secure a certificate of health. Moreover, marriage should not be within the degrees of consanguinity which are forbidden in the scriptures. Marriage is of a public nature. The welfare of civil society, the happiness of families and the credit of religion are deeply interested in it. Therefore, the purpose of marriage ought to be sufficiently published a proper time previous to the solemnization of it."

Spiritual Compatibility.

"The scriptures teach the need of spiritual compatibility in marriage and that believers should marry only 'in the Lord.' The lack of harmony on the part of parents in the training of their children when they differ in the essentials of the faith was proved divisive and tends to destroy the happiness of the truly Christian home."

In referring to divorce the report asserts: "The church reaffirms its historic position that nothing but adultery or such wilful desertion as can in no way be remedied by a church or civil magistrate is cause sufficient of dissolving the bond of marriage; wherein a public and orderly course of proceeding is to be observed and the persons concerned in it not left to their own wills and discretions in their own case."

Concerning remarriage the report is quoted as saying: "When husband and wife have been divorced on either of the two grounds authorized by the scriptures, the innocent party is justified in remarriage on a Christian basis. All ministers who are requested to marry divorced people should exercise great care lest they join together those whose marriage the church cannot justify."

"Earnest Christian people," says the report, "are asking the church's guidance on the subject of birth control. The Christian conception of sex clothes the relationship between man and wife with spiritual significance, sanctifying marriage as a divine institution. Moral control is the basis essential to a worthy experience of a marriage relation.

Urge Instructions.

"In expressing its judgment on this subject, the church in no sense modified its condemnation of sex relations outside of marriage."

Certain social and economical conditions have established a new set of social problems and difficulties touching marriage and the home today, states the report. Ministers are urged to study these conditions so they may be able to deal with them more effectively.

"An adequate course in sex instruction and courses on marriage and family relations," should be added to the curriculum in the education of ministers, the commission recommended.

PEONIES
Written for Central Press
By DR. KARL F. KELLERMAN
Bureau of Plant Industry
U. S. Department of Agriculture
Peonies are so rugged and hardy, their reddish shoots pushing bravely up in early spring, that they are often neglected.

Dr. Karl F. Kellerman

Yet they respond readily to attention, and reward the gardener amply for his extra pains.

Horticulturists of the bureau of plant industry start cultivation in early spring. As soon as the shoots are far enough out to indicate the spread of the plants, a dressing of commercial sheep manure, applied at the rate of not more than one heaping handful to each plant, may be worked into the soil with good results.

Peonies, to do their best must have plenty of water at blossoming time. After each spring rain the earth about the plants should be stirred, not, though, while it is sticky. Although they do well in partial shade, peonies prefer well-watered soil in the full sun.

Better size and quality in the individual blossoms result from removing all but the best bud from each stem. Removing some of the flower stems early, when the buds are about the size of a large pea, also makes for bigger and better individual blossoms.

Liquid manure fed to the plant after the buds have set also stimulates growth. Of course, to obtain mass effect and a long flowering season, do not remove these flower stems.

To prevent damage by wind and rain stakes 18 to 24 inches high are used to support weak-stemmed varieties.

Admits Killing His Grandfather

Ohio Farmer 90 Years Old Is Beaten To Death

STUBENVILLE, O., April 27.—William Casey, 90, farmer, was beaten to death with a poker at his home in Springfield township Saturday.

Clark Polen, 30, a grandson, has been jailed on a murder charge by his mother, Mrs. C. A. Polen. She says she and her daughters left the farmhouse for a short time yesterday afternoon and on their return were told by her son he had killed his grandfather.

She found Casey dead in the living room, his skull crushed. Later she learned from her son that he had seen the women leaving the house and leaving his work in the fields, had entered the house and killed the aged man. Relatives say Polen has been acting queerly for some time past, and officials believe he is mentally deranged. Polen admits the killing.

Accident Victims Still Unconscious

SHARON, Pa., April 27.—The condition of Mrs. O. B. Sweezy, of West Middlesex, who was injured in an automobile accident at Greenville a week ago today, is considered very grave according to Greenville hospital authorities. She suffered a fracture of the skull and serious internal injuries and has not regained consciousness since the accident happened.

Mrs. Sweezy was injured while riding in a car driven by Elizabeth Rarick, New Brighton, which collided with another machine at a Greenville street intersection.

Geriatrics Explained As Specialty Of Ills Of Aged

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Pediatrics is the department of medicine dealing with the diseases of children. Of all specialties it has developed the most rapidly in the present century. Not only has knowledge advanced, but the attitude of the men who practice in this specialty, their unselfish devotion to the very exacting conditions of such practice, is the most wholesome of any medical specialty.

This is proper, because if a child takes the trouble to get born into the world it certainly should be assured of living to do its work. And such assurance can be given more certainly than ever before in history. The great improvement in the lengthening of human life consists almost entirely in lowering the death rate of infancy.

The specialty at the other extreme of life is called geriatrics. It is the study of diseases of the aged. It naturally cannot hope to make such progress as pediatrics. The stimulus the pediatrician has is the vigor and responsiveness of the young bodies he treats.

But geriatrics is by no means without its triumphs. Knowledge of the treatment of many of the diseases particularly likely to afflict old people has been accumulating at a great rate during the last decade. The treatment of heart disease, diabetes, of pernicious anemia, of superficial skin cancers, is in every case far more scientific and satisfactory than it was.

The fact which startles most physicians when they first begin to examine old people is the surprising amount of signs of disease they show and still remain perfectly healthy. They have rattles in the chest, they wheeze, they are short of breath, their pulses skip and jump, but still they continue to get about as well as ever. They will be down with pneumonia one day and almost out the next, cry as ever. One old fellow of 87, in a Confederate soldiers' home, had a heart attack, resulting in heart block so that his pulse was 26, then a stroke, and finally recovered from them all. Blood pressure of 220 are found unassociated with any symptoms at all. So cheer up.

Over-treatment of the aged is the commonest fault in handling them. "Many of the conditions of age," says a practitioner in this field, "cannot be corrected and the general well-being of the individual is more often disturbed than enhanced by medicines. The old man who is getting on fairly well should be given a lot of advice but few drugs."

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

Mrs. M. Louisville, Ky.: "Would like to know about French Mouth. Do people ever die of it, and what causes the disease? What is the cure?"

Answer: French Mouth is the name that was given during the war to an infection of the gums and palate. The germs which cause it were isolated by a physician named Vincent, and it is usually called Vincent's Angina by physicians. It is quite common, was well known before the war, and has nothing necessarily to do with trenches. It is not fatal when uncomplicated. Local treatment by hydrogen peroxide applications to the diseased gums is often sufficient to cure. Constitutional treatment by injections of drugs into the veins is employed in severe cases.

LET YOUR HOME BE YOUNG AGAIN MODERNIZE!

A Piano or New Furniture will make it a real home.
If you have never had music in your home, then there's little wonder that you do not know what pleasures a home really can afford.

A grand piano, a phonograph, a radio set are becoming as necessary to home happiness today as the arm chair, the dining table or the floor coverings, all important as they may be.

Modernize your home, inside and outside, now by making up a list of those interior furnishings that are needed or must be replaced, by making a list of the alterations you would like and the remodeling that is necessary to make your home look like new.

Then take that list to your banker and have him help you to execute all of your desires.

Remember that there is no day like today in which to get started.

Loyal Men's Class Fetes Bethany Men

Losers In Attendance Contest Act As Host On Saturday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, April 27.—One grand time was enjoyed Saturday evening in the basement of the First Christian church when the Loyal Men's Class feted the Bethany men to a banquet as a result of losing an attendance contest that ended on Easter Sunday.

There were nearly 200 present on this occasion who were really surprised that the Loyal Men could prepare such a banquet. It was revealed to the guests later that the men had the assistance of the Ladies Aid Society.

The Bethany class was in charge of the program and had succeeded in keeping the attention of the crowd throughout the evening. W. H. Adams was toastmaster on the occasion. The events of the evening were inaugurated by the assemblage singing "America" and a prayer lead by Rev. H. D. K. Huber, pastor of the church. Toastmaster Adams complimented the Bethany class on its accomplishment and challenged it to another contest. Earl Adams made a few announcements at this time.

Harper's string ensemble brightened the evening with some good music. Little Herbert Harper entertained the guests with a vocal selection "You're The One I Care For." Then Frank Renoff of the First Christian church of Beaver Falls rendered a vocal selection, accompanied by Miss Mary Huber.

Rev. Huber, who had returned from Lisbon, Ohio, explained that he had anticipated this splendid dinner and just couldn't keep away. He was very pleased with the program arranged for the evening. He complimented the Bethany class on its pep and persistent way it has on accomplishing matters.

George "Scotty" Paxton kept the crowd in laughter by singing the song "Gee It's Nice To Get Up In The Morning" in the Scotch dialect. Then the high school quartet comprised of Chester Caldwell, Donald Cloak, Robert Streeter, and Maurice Hayes entertained the audience with several selections. Miss Leona Davis was the accompanist.

A humorous chalk talk by Bell Keigel held the fancy of the audience for an entertaining period.

A few more selections by the Harper's String ensemble and the high school quartet concluded the event of the evening.

Y. P. C. U. Meeting Of Real Interest

ELLWOOD CITY, April 27.—A very interesting meeting was held by the Y. P. C. U. of the U. P. Church Sunday evening at 7:00 o'clock in the church rooms.

The meeting was opened with a song which was followed by scripture reading. Then Rev. W. E. Minter lead a prayer. Several announcements were made at this time and then the program was handed over to Mrs. Edward Butler who made some very unusual arrangements.

The subject for the evening was "The Unmet Needs of the World," to which several members of the society gave a talk that came under this lead. After each talk a scale was used to balance the needs of the world. Miss Grace Harbison spoke on "Adventuring with Christ" and Miss Bertha Burrows on "The World's Great Advance. Harold Young had chosen as his subject "Faith" which is necessary to hold an equilibrium in the world. Miss Harbison completed the balancing of the scales with her talk on "Balance."

After the program the second copy of the organization's bulletin was distributed. The dumb bunnies had their last chance Sunday to dispose of their title by bringing along another member. Many have failed and so must prepare a social for the society to be held some time next month.

The meeting was closed with a song and a prayer.

Trying To Keep School Lawns In Excellent Shape

ELLWOOD CITY, April 27.—The local schools have gone to some expense in getting the lawns in shape for the Yard and Garden contest being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and is having difficulty in keeping them in satisfactory condition due to children playing on them after school hours.

Secretary of the board of education R. K. Mattocks says that he is very proud of the fine spirit shown by students in observing the rules and regulations of the school. This shows that the students are actually interested in this contest and have pride in their school. A beautiful lawn will also place pride in the citizens of the community. The board does not like to use police measures in enforcing the trespassing rule and requests the citizens to use their discretion in helping to observe this. It is with their money that this is made possible and they are asked to do with it as if their own. The citizens will be of great aid to the board if they keep their children and others off the school lawns.

19. Lewis And Clark—The Bird Woman's Homecoming

AFTER SPENDING THREE ANXIOUS DAYS IN THE VILLAGE TO WHICH THE STRANGE INDIANS HAD LED HIM AND HIS TWO COMPANIONS, CAPTAIN LEWIS WAS MUCH RELIEVED WHEN CLARK ARRIVED WITH CHARBONEAU, SACAIAWEA, THE BIRD WOMAN, AND THE REST OF THE PARTY.

AS THE BIRD WOMAN APPROACHED THE GROUP BEFORE THE CHIEF'S TEEPEE, SHE GAVE A SUDDEN CRY. THESE INDIANS WERE SHOSHONES, HER OWN PEOPLE FROM WHOM SHE HAD BEEN STOLEN BY THE GROS VENTRES YEARS BEFORE.

THEN SHE THREW HERSELF INTO THE ARMS OF THE CHIEF. HE WAS HER BROTHER. HURRIEDLY SHE TOLD HER STORY AND DISPELLED THE SHOSHONES' DISTRICT OF THE WHITE MEN.

ROY CALDWELL'S RACER.

Roy Caldwell of Elm street, has just completed a car for dirt track racing, which is not only unique in appearance but is different in construction from most other racing cars and carries some new construction ideas into use, that are more or less of a radical departure from the general type of racing cars.

Mr. Caldwell, who has done considerable dirt track racing in the last five years, has carried out in the construction of this car, some of the ideas originating from his many and varied experiences. This is the sixth racing car that he has constructed.

The car has two complete special Chevrolet racing motors, double drive shafts and a double rear axle. It has a wheel base of only 87 inches and is of the standard width.

According to Mr. Caldwell, the car has a speed of approximately sixty miles an hour in second gear and better than 110 miles an hour in high. It only carries a driver.

It is the intention of Mr. Caldwell to race the car at all races possible in Pennsylvania and Ohio districts, during the summer.

The car is modelled after Seagraves' "Golden Arrow" but is considerably smaller in size. The machine is attracting great attention wherever seen, and great things are expected of it by Mr. Caldwell.

Amateur Golfers Seek Crown Worn By Bobby Jones

Amateur Tournament This Year Will Be Interesting Affair

SEVERAL GIVEN
CHANCE TO WIN

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service Sports
Writer

NEW YORK, April 27.—The 1931 national amateur golf championship will be a "wide open" affair.

With Bobby Jones, "king of golfdom," out of competition, the bars are down for a flock of ambitious golfers, many of whom are nursing the idea that destiny will beckon to them when the national amateur championship is staged at the Beverly Country club in Chicago August 21 to September 5. Jones is ineligible to compete, having relinquished his amateur status last fall to accumulate important money in the movies.

Many Conceded Chance.
Fully a dozen top notch amateurs are conceded to have a splendid chance this year of winning the right to wear the mythical diadem that so often has graced the head of the immortal Jones.

George Voigt of Winged Foot, Marmaronek, N. Y., Eugene Homans of Englewood, N. J. and Charley Seaver of Los Angeles are regarded by golf experts as right up in the forefront of the phalanx of dangerous contenders. Voigt had the great Jones two down at one stage of their match in the amateur last year. Homans was the finalist with Jones and Seaver played Homans in the semi-final round and was five up at one juncture before he "blew". All three have real chances.

Unfortunately, George Von Elm, whom many thought second only to Jones, will not compete this year in the amateur since he has become a business man golfer.

Boston Braves Improved Team

Brooklyn Team Has Failed To Hit Stride In Early Season Games

CLEVELAND IS LEADING LEAGUE

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports
Writer

NEW YORK, April 27.—Class is beginning to tell as the major league baseball season enters its third week.

With the exception of the Boston Braves and the Brooklyn Robins, the sixteen big league outfits have hit their true stride. Boston's unexpected display of strength is mainly responsible for Brooklyn's lowly position, the Robins having taken it on the chin in six of their seven games with the Beaneaters.

Cards Lead Pack.
Although Chuck Hayfey has not yet reported to the Cardinals, they have clung to the top rung of the National League ladder through the superb pitching of Grimes, Hallahan, Haines and Rhem. Even in losing a 1 to 0 duel to Meigs of Pittsburgh yesterday, Hallahan pitched well enough to win nine out of ten games.

Chicago's Cubs have been batting heavily and loom as the Cardinals' in the most dangerous rivals in the senior circuit. Charley Root already has won three games, and the other Bruins also are playing grand ball for Rogers Hornsby.

Indians Look Good.
Cleveland is setting the pace in the American League this morning
due to the fact that the Indians have been feeding on the weaker clubs in the western half of the circuit while the Athletics, Senators and Yankees have been cutting each others' throats in the east.

Cleveland's hurlers are pitching airtight ball and the club's batting average of .339 is far higher than that of any other team in the league.

What the Indians will do when they run up against Philadelphia, Washington and New York is something else again, however.

Joe McCarthy has made good with a bang at New York but another week may see the Yankees falling back into the second division for a spell. With Ruth, Cooke and Hoag injured, the New Yorkers are in a bad way for outfielders. Yesterday McCarthy had to send Charley Ruffing, a pitcher, to right field after Cooke was hurt.

Giants Promising.
The Athletics, after a terrible start, are slowly but surely working their way to the top. Considering that the Mackmen trailed all other clubs in both leagues in batting for the first ten days of the season with a mark of only .216, they have done well to break even thus far. The A's will be picking on the Red Sox for the next few days and should improve their position further.

The New York Giants loom as a sure contender in the National League chase. John McGraw has pocketed up two promising rookies in John Berly, pitcher, and Johnny Vergez, third baseman. Even with Terry,
Out and O'Farrell doing poor work at bat, the club is leading the National League in hitting.

SANKEY TO PLAY WITH CEDAR RAPIDS

Sankey McCullough will play third base for Cedar Rapids this season, he said last night. McCullough will join Cedar Rapids, Tuesday. He is one of the best infielders the city has produced in several years.

Barefoot Boxer

Benny (Flash) Akahuela, lightweight with the Hawaiian boxing team which is in New York for the national amateur tournament, refuses to wear shoes, even in the ring. He also plays football barefoot and can punt 60 yards with his undraped tribbles.

Only one champion of last year is to defend his title. He is Jack Pallat, Cleveland, who won the heavyweight title in Boston.

Homier Brandis, of California, will be plenty "troubled" for the champion the experts said.

ters In Game

Athletic club five to nothing Saturday on Clifton Flats field. Soho hurled for the Soda Jerkers and struck out 10. He allowed only well until the final frame when the Pottery team scored five runs.

Russo was the feature hitter for the winners with three two-base

Rocco And King
Levinisky Clash

Emmett Rocco, Ellwood City and King Levinisky, Chicago, heavyweights, are scheduled to meet in a 10 round bout tonight at Pittsburgh.
Rocco is in fine condition, according to reports from Ellwood. Tonight's clash will be the first for Rocco since going under the management of Joe Alexander of this city.

He seemed to drop a little more and when the car whisked away we thought we could see the Yankee's pennant hopes going with it, but then we always were so imaginative.

The rain the Babe found so hit washed away all except four games in the circuits on Sunday.

Charlie Root held the Reds to six hits and won, 3 to 1, for the Chicago Cubs. Two fateful walks by Hallahan lost for St. Louis 1 to 0, to the Pirates with Heine Meigs winning hurler. Sorrell and Sullivan limited the Chicago White Sox to three safeties to triumph for Detroit 3 to 4.

Plan To Examine Loan Companies

Examination Of Books Of Two Small Loan Companies Will Be Started

USURIOUS RATES BEING CHARGED

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 27.—Examination of the books of two small loan companies was to be started today by J. D. Swigert, chief examiner of the state department of banking as a result of reports that usurious rates of interest are being charged small borrowers by some companies.

The check comes as aftermath of the asserted submission of agents of the two companies to an alleged "shakedown" game for which Charles O. Dorsett of Atlanta, Ga., and Pittsburgh is held on $1,000 bail for extortion.

Dorsett is alleged to have posed as a state banking official and to have obtained $350 each from agents of the two companies as "hush" money on threats of revealing illegal high interest rates. Detectives were informed of the alleged "deal" when a private detective whom Dorsett tried to enlist in his activities, went through with his part of the program after notifying authorities.

The legal rate of interest which a small loan company may charge is 3 1/2 per cent a month.

The third regular leader training course session for Scout leaders and prospective leaders of the Lawrence County Boy Scout Council, New Castle district, will be held this evening at the First Christian church on the diamond at 7:30 o'clock, daylight saving time. There has been a steady increase in interest in this course, and good meetings are being held.

Sidney Smith was named as senior patrol leader at the last session and Dr. R. C. Lutz and Ed Schmidt will be on the job as patrol leaders tonight. Deputy James Gwin having batted for Schmidt during the past two sessions. Course students are asked to check up on their reading assignments for tonight and patrols are asked to "be prepared" with the yell and song.

Rev. C. A. Blackmore To Conduct Services

Two Weeks Campaign Will Be Held In Baptist Church By City Rescue Mission

REV. C. A. BLACKMORE

The City Rescue Mission, Ben Watkins, superintendent will present to New Castle Rev. C. A. Blackmore of Erie and the famous jubilee singers in two weeks of religious services, which will be held nightly in the First Baptist church at the corner of East and North street.

These meetings will be another step in the work of the Mission, which not only attends to the physical, but also to the spiritual needs of persons.

Rev. C. A. Blackmore, is an outstanding mission man, being superintendent of the Erie mission and he knows the needs of mankind in every walk of life and will bring messages that will appeal to all his hearers.

Associated with Rev. Blackmore will be the Spiritual Jubilee Singers. Every time these singers appear it is a signal for a capacity audience. These singers have been appearing in the Epworth church for the past week, with the Dibble Evangelistic party, and will be held over in the city to participate in the Mission services.

The meetings will begin each evening at 7:30.

300 Attend Last Teachers' Meeting

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., April 27.—About 300 present and prospective teachers attended the class demonstrations in Slippery Rock State College Saturday. They were the last of a series of four given this year for the area. The college faculty is placing teachers for the coming year.

Bo Broadway

By Central Press
NEW YORK, April 27.—Uncle Henry Ford says that a repeal of the Dry Law would cut wages. And a lot of people think that it's better to have the wages cut than the likker.

STRANGE INTERLUDE.
A man from Pennsylvania recently departed for home from a mid-town hotel, leaving on the bureau the picture of a very beautiful young woman in a tooled blue-leather frame. A maid took the picture to the lost and found department and the man was communicated with.

"Smash that picture—burn it—give it to the Salvation Army—do anything you want with it," he wired to the hotel, "but for heaven's sake don't send it back here."

ONE LITTLE WORD.
Says Jed Harris, the theatrical producer: "There is hardly any theatrical public left for cheap and offensive dramatic fare. The 'movies' and the sound films have observed all the available trash of that sort and probably will continue to do so, so that what little dirt finds its way to the legitimate stage is easy to recognize."

And he continues: "The stage is like a good-natured trollop. She may smile on a man one minute and be off the next. She may make his fortune and then leave him flat. She's an amiable wench—so amiable that she survives in the public affection despite all the attacks on puritans and reformers and is LIABLE to continue to be held in favor for a long time yet. I, at least, am fond of her."

Mr. Harris' use of the word "liable" when he meant "likely" is significant.

INTERNAL TROUBLE.
Mr. Harris is right. The theatre survives despite puritans and reformers—despite a menace more deadly than either puritan or reformer, namely, the present breed that has the stage in its grip.

The stage, like the church, has suffered more from within than from without—from its friends rather than from its enemies.

FRIXAMPLE.
Take Jed Harris for example: Just a lucky kid—that's the best you can say for him. Touted out of all proportion to his merit. A nice lad taken by and large, but a man whose Reputation and whose Ability wouldn't recognize each other if they met head on outside his office in the glare of the mid-day sun.

He runs around Broadway in odd raiment, needing a shave and a haircut. These things have been noted by the army of peepers who scribble for the press and the unthinking have come to invest Jed Harris with the attributes of genius—not because of any outstanding accomplishment in his chosen profession, but because of these little eccentricities of personality. An ironic Fate completed the ludicrous picture by showering Jed Harris with wealth in his youth; and what is it the jester says in "As You Like It?" "Nay, call me not 'fool' 'til heaven hath sent me fortune."

A STIMULANT.
Some time when you have nothing better to do, set down on paper ten things or conditions that you think would make life most worth living, and then see how your Utopia compares with that of Stuart Chase, as described in his new book, "The Nemesis of American Business."

Mr. Chase wants to live in a community that fosters health, beauty, economic security for all; he wants to do congenial work, to dress as he pleases, to play, to travel; he wants to be among good books, good plays, good music, good conversation; he wants to take pride in the fine achievements of his community; and he asks above all for "leisure—leisure—a break in the demorseless and meaningless urgencies of the twentieth century pace."

Mr. Chase was never more stimulating or more constructive than in this discussion of what's wrong with America and what can be done to make it more Utopia. The Macmillan Company puts the book out for $2—and it's more than worth it.

RECIPE FOR SUCCESS.
Mr. Chase levels a lance at the "ghost writer" and those who "boil the pot" with the expectation that they will accumulate their pile and then write like a house afire about the things they really want to write about.

It cannot be done, he warns. "A continued and calculated flow of second-rate work is more than likely to poison the original spring."

There's no royal road to success in writing. Hard work, travail, honesty. There's no other way.

AGED WOMAN BREAKS HIP

Mrs. Esther Tate, 1710 Hamilton street, fell Friday evening in the home of her daughter, where she has been making her home, and fractured her hip.

Mrs. Tate is 84 years of age and her condition is as good as can be expected.

REV. J. W. ECKMAN ATTENDS CONFERENCE
Rev. J. W. Eckman, pastor of the Zion Lutheran church, Crawford avenue, will leave Wednesday for Ashtabula, O., where he will attend a conference of the New York district of the Lutheran church.

J. B. Thomson will accompany Rev. Eckman as lay delegate from the church.
